Since 2015, CREAMERY STATION has evolved into a musical powerhouse with an eclectic, genre-spanning sound capitalizing on a broad range of songwriting, instrumental and vocal talent.

Hailing from Connecticut, this multi-generational ensemble has shared the stage with acts such as: Max Creek, Melvin Seals & JGB, Twiddle, Keller Williams, Marshall Tucker Band, Roots of Creation, John Kadlecik Band, Pink Talking Fish, The Garcia Project, Kitchen Dwellers, & many more.

The band has performed at prominent venues like The Stamford Palace, Port City Music Hall, The Chance Theater, Fairfield Theater Company, The Worcester Palladium, Wall Street Theater, and Infinity Hall, and festivals including Wormtown/Strange Creek, Harry Brown's Farm, and Jerry Jam.

As of December 1, 2020:

- Over 10,000 Facebook Followers
- National radio airplay on 130 stations
- 52,000+ spins on Spotify
- Next album release: spring/summer 2021
- Extensive line of merchandise

"The band is a combination of long standing professional musicians with the added energy of youth to create a great mesh of age, experience, vitality and musicianship."
--The Fairfield County Music Reporter

"...the album quickly proves that the New England-based roots-jamband are already a well-oiled machine..."
-- Relix Magazine

"They radiate the fundamental — and yet still somehow rare — attitude that music is to be made by everyone, for bringing people together..."
-- Hartford Courant
